1	Do you share your financials so I can determine what level of risk I am taking by having a company of your size as a critical part of my global enterprise mission critical operation?	 1	 -	 -
2	I am not sure I have 3 answers for you. I have more questions. I think it is a very intriguing solution and am currently deploying CloudFlare. I would be interested in learning a bit more about it. We use containers as well.	 -	 -	 -
2	I would think my questions would be: 1) Pricing - what is that model? What are the Licensing and other pricing options? 2) Services - what are the professional and managed services offered around the solution? How are those prices in terms of the model? 3) Locations - you mention across the globe, do you have a map that shows where the pops are? Very interesting product and great job on the video/overview	 -	 -	 -
2	I do not have three questions either, but would like to know how secure Section.io is compared to other CDN's. Cloudflare comes to mind with their recent hack this year.	 -	 -	 -

2	I think I would like to know 1) how your up-time compares with other CDN providers 2) how fast can you respond to a network outage and 3) What kind of managed services to you also provide along with your platform.	 -	 -	 -
2	Have you had an independent review of your cloud infrastructure and service (SSAE 16 review)? Please provide detail on this review, including who executed it, when it was executed, scope of review, type of testing, frequency of testing and summary results. If possible, please provide the report.	 -	 -	 -
2	Describe your business continuity/disaster recovery policy and plan. Do you test it? If so, how often? Can we receive a copy (redacted is ok) of the last test results? Did you meet your client advertised RTO/RPO?	 -	 -	 -
2	Nice overview but a little too high level to really understand the solutions you are trying to offer in the space 1) how do you price, how large are you/financials, team, etc.? 2) what specific services do you offer? 3) what independent certs, reviews have been conducted?	 -	 -	 -

2	I would continue to streamline the value message of your product, I watched the intro twice to make sure I really understood what you had to offer. My questions would be what is the cost/licensing, what does implementation look like up front and ongoing, and more around security and DR.	 -	 -	 -
2	The video provided a good overview of the product. It highlights that customers can achieve improved performance and better security but does not offer much info on how it does these. Also, there's not much info on improving development team efficiency beyond the "developer PoP" feature. More info on the how of Section.io would be helpful - since many of us will be initially skeptical of claims of better security and developer efficiency	 -	 -	 -
